KUNO, the new Chinese Minister to the Court of St. James's, arrived at Shanghai from Nanking on March 27th. He will leave for London within the next three weeks.

THE P. & O. S. N. Co.'s steamship Swat, with the new English mail, left Singapore for this port at 5 p.m. yesterday, and is expected here about 6 a.m. on the 8th inst.

MONSIEUR Gabriel Lemaire, ex-Minister for France at Peking, is a passenger for Marseilles by the French mail steamer Calcutta, which arrived here from Shanghai this morning.

THE Vos Espagnols of March 29th states that from 21st January to 23rd February there were 1724 cases of small pox in Cuba, and 790 deaths, bringing the total up to 24,426 cases and 5,800 deaths since the present epidemic began.

SERENO, Tactful of the Tientsin Customs, who has been in Shanghai for some time past, inquiring into the particulars of the destruction by fire last October of the Shanghai Cotton Cloth Mill, left for Tientsin on March 30th, to report to Viceroy Li Hung-chang.

A PETTY officer of the Navy, newly arrived by the Tamar, fell down the staircase of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Institute, Queen's Road East, last night, and was removed to the Naval Hospital in an unconscious condition. His life is not believed to be in danger.

We read that the Chinese alligator, which has long been supposed to be extinct, has been rediscovered, and specimens of it sent to the Royal Zoological Gardens at London. Marco Polo in describing the specimen says that its gall was a specific for the cure of hydrophobia.

AXEL LARSON, a sailor belonging to the British ship Drumcliff, while going on board his ship at the Associated Wharves, Pootung, on the morning of the 27th ult., mislaid his footing and fell backwards, striking a cargo-boat with his head before reaching the water. He was drowned.

MR. F. E. TAYLOR, of the Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs, who acted as Secretary to Mr. James Hart throughout the Sikkim-Tibet negotiations, has been promoted to the rank of Commissioner. It is surmised that Mr. Taylor will be placed in charge of the new office at Yatsing in Tibet.

CYCLING has lately taken a great hold of the Philippines, who seem to regard the pastime as quite a new discovery. Already pneumatic tyres are all over the country, and two enthusiasts have just made a complete tour of Luzon, without a single accident. The Ozama suggests that map with special notes for cyclists should be published.

A big fire on March 24th is reported from Nigbo. Over forty houses were burned down and a great panic was created in the Temple of the God of Health, where a theatrical performance was in progress when the conflagration was at its worst. There was a great rush made for the doors of the theatre, but happily the only casualties were a few bruises. No loss of life is reported from the houses that were destroyed.

The "Glen" liner Glenavon and the French mail steamer Orsay came into collision between the Woonung lighthouse and Woonung creek, in the Shanghai river, at 6 a.m. on the 30th ult.

The Orsay was being re-moored when the Glenavon, outward bound, "struck her starboard bow anchor with her stem, cutting it in two, the crown of the anchor falling in the water and the stock pressing into her side, damaging one or two of her plates and frames from the rail to a couple of feet downwards. The anchor took the shock off the collision, and thus rendered the damage to the Orsay comparatively slight. The Glenavon was apparently not damaged and proceeded on her voyage."

THE Manila Comercio of the 29th ult. says that on the 19th March, two men dressed in the uniform of the Guardia Civil, and armed with rifles, went into the police court at Pinar, in the province of Batang, Luzon, and without any warning attacked two of the guards, slaying them first with clubs and then firing several shots into their bodies. The murderers then disappeared, and it was afterwards discovered that they were notorious desperadoes who had several times escaped from prison. They next attempted a similar act of revenge at the neighbouring town of Bulacan, on Good Friday, but had to flee before doing anything serious. Later reports state that they belong to a band of about a hundred outlaws, now cruising in a large schooner off Batang; a gunboat has been sent from Manila to hunt them down.

JOSE SANCHEZ DEL AGUILAR, lately clerk in the Ordnance Store Department, was again before Mr. H. E. Wodehouse at the Police Court this morning, charged with attempting to pass a forged cheque for $30, in the name of Captain E. S. Combe, at the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank on the 29th ult. Captain Combe stated that the cheque produced by Detective Sergeant Green for $30 did not bear his signature, though the name at foot of it was certainly his. It appeared to him that an attempt had been made to forge his name. Witness then signed his name for the information of the Court, after which the further hearing of the case was adjourned for a week in order that one of Hongkong Bank clerks, Mr. James Kiddle, recently transferred to the Shanghai branch of the Bank, might appear to give evidence of the attempt to pass the cheque in question.

MESSRS. Wm. G. Hale & Co.'s circular, dated Shanghai, 24th March, says:—"Under the influence of a strong demand for China, Japan, the Straits and Java, our rice market has kept firm during the past fortnight, and it is very likely that the high prices now ruling will keep on for a while. In the House of Commons last night Mr. Labouchere moved an amendment to the Address-in-Reply, suggesting that provision be made for the abolition of the House of Lords' power of veto. Sir William Vernon Harcourt said that the spirit of the amendment was unimpaired, and suggested its withdrawal, because, if adopted, it would mean the flooding of the Upper House with 500 new Peers. Otherwise the present Lords would reject the proposal.

Mr. John Redmond said that Ireland would not tolerate delay to the Home Rule cause, and the Government in England impossible. Mr. Chamberlain declared that he did not believe the statement that Lord Rosebery had accepted the leadership with the view of betraying the Irish party.

Mr. Labouchere's amendment was carried by a majority of 2. The Nationalists combined with the Radicals on the division. The Times says that an early dissolution of Parliament is inevitable.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt to-day moved a new Address-in-Reply, in which the Government declared its intention to accept the amendment to the Address-in-Reply was adopted without a division.

Vernon Harcourt's expedient of bringing in a new Address after a defeat on an amendment would humiliate the Government and was without example in political history. Mr. Labouchere held that his amendment was perfectly legitimate, but the leader of the Government had taken it as a threat.

Mr. Huddart in replying to a deputation from the business people of Cork and Belfast said he declined to give a pledge that his terms would call there. Mr. Huddart also says that the Canadians prefer the unbroken management of the carriage of mails from Australia to London by the Canadian-Australian steamers. He has been assured of the best cargoes for the mail service from Canada to England, and the majority of passengers. It is expected the Canadian Government will abolish the duties on meat and fruit, as the Cabinet is unanimous on the question. It has been suggested that Mr. Huddart's steamers should call at Fiji, but the success of that departure will largely depend upon the Imperial subsidy.

It is intended that the average time occupied between Australia and London will be 30 hours less than by the present route from Australia to London via San Francisco, but the New Zealand Government will be required to increase their subsidy.

Mr. James Huddart says that he regards the glowing work of the new mail route as his personal vocation. The praise of British industry is very gratifying and all very well, but he does not satisfy him. He must receive a subsidy from the British Government of at least £75,000.

H.M.S. Crescent, which recently put back for repairs, sailed again for Australia to join the Australian fleet, but had again to return to port disabled.

Agents-General had been invited, was held this afternoon. Sir John Lubbock presiding. SYDNEY, March 15th.

A widow named Sarah Bailey, living at Balmmain, Sydney, while in a condition of dementia, attacked her little daughter with an axe, inflicting wounds which are likely to prove fatal.

The little girl Bailey, who was attacked by her mother with an axe yesterday, has since died. A peculiar feature of the sad occurrence is that the victim, Emily, was the mother's favourite child. It is probably owing to the fact that the child had caused her much anxiety, being afflicted with hare-lip, and having been in the hospital on more than one occasion to undergo an operation. This and financial losses preyed upon the woman's mind and caused insanity.

Mrs. Bailey, who killed her child yesterday at Balmmain, is still a raving maniac, although she occasionally becomes rational. She has not been told of the death of the child.

In the Assembly to-day the Premier said that there was no truth in the report that the Chief Justice had recently made a composition with his creditors.

MELBOURNE, March 15th.

The retiring Railway Commissioners, Mr. Francis Murray and Mr. Kibble, have completed their final report and forwarded it to the Minister for Railways. They say that since they took office, by judicious management and retrenchment they have effected a saving between £500,000 and £600,000 per annum, and have also introduced reforms in various departments. They have re-organised the train service, and put on a paying basis.

The action instituted by Mr. Allison Smith for the recovery of £15,000 against Mr. Syme of the Age, was the subject of an application to Mr. Justice Hood in the Practice Court to-day, when the defendant applied to have the case remitted to the County Court, on the ground that the plaintiff had no means of paying costs should the verdict be against him. The application was adjourned.

Reports from British Gambia are to the effect that further conflicts with the slave dealers have been all in favour of the British. Fodillah, the notorious leader of the slave dealers, who has been raiding British territory at the head of a strong force, is reported to have been captured.

The revolution in Brazil is said to be approaching a climax. Latest news is to the effect that one of the most prominent of the insurgent leaders (Admiral Gama) has offered to surrender to the Government on certain conditions, but President Felixto refuses to entertain the offer, and demands the unconditional surrender of all those who have taken any part in the insurrection. The new squadron of war vessels, purchased for the Brazilian Government in the United States, has arrived on the scene, and the speedy victory of the President's following is now regarded as assured. The long struggle having greatly crippled the insurgents, who are not regarded as belligerents by the outside Powers, and there are therefore comparatively destitute of recuperative resources. One of the forts occupied by the rebels has been bombarded by the new squadron, the dynamite shells from the Zalkinski guns, with which novel weapon all the vessels are armed, proving terribly effective; the fort was set on fire in several places, and completely silenced in a comparatively short space of time, many of the garrison being killed.

A feeling of panic is said to be growing among the insurgents, and numbers of the officers are reported to be deserting and seeking refuge on board French, Portuguese, and other foreign vessels lying in the harbour.

Admiral Mello, the head of the Insurrection, is reported to have made his escape out to sea, and it is probable that a portion of the loyal squadron will shortly start in pursuit.

Messrs. Huddart Parker's Pacific mail steamer service appears to be rapidly growing in public estimation.

ADELAIDE, March 15th.

Latest news from the "New Australia" settlement in Paraguay is of a very unsatisfactory nature. The bickering and disagreements continue, and the leader (Lane) is accused by a section of the party of being tyrannical and arbitrary to an unbearable degree, and with having doomed the expedition to failure by his general incapacity and mismanagement. A number of the discontented members have been ruthlessly expelled from the settlement, and are now in the unenviable plight of being stranded in a foreign land with no visible means of support, the Executive refusing to refund one penny of the £60 contributed by each member. In several other instances members have voluntarily severed their connection with the association, and these are said to have received back only a small percentage of the money contributed by them to the general fund. Nearly one hundred of the members have either been expelled or left of their own free will.

Large returns of gold continue to be obtained at Mount Pleasant, and the outlook is a very cheerful one.

It is stated that the Bank of England has lost a quarter of a million sterling through the defalcations of Frank May, late cashier in that establishment.

The Government has announced that steps will be immediately taken to add to the strength of the British Navy. The addition will comprise seven first-class ironclad ironclads of 15,000 tons, capable of a speed of eighteen knots an hour at sea; also six swift cruisers and two sloops, of seven and one thousand tons respectively. It is estimated that seven thousand more men will be required to efficiently man these vessels.

Measures are also to be at once undertaken to improve the effectiveness of existing vessels, old guns being replaced by the latest improved types, &c., and other reforms introduced where practical experiments have shown them to be needed. It has also been decided to fortify the coast, and take other steps to ensure the better preservation of British interests in the event of war.

Valentine, the English middle-weight pugilist, has defeated Jim Burge, the Australian light-weight now visiting England. The fight was a very obstinate one, the Australian, who was overmatched from the start, not being knocked out before the twentieth round.

Several additional anarchist outrages are reported. In Italy a bomb was thrown from the gallery of a crowded theatre. A cool-headed man among the audience with great presence of mind instantly quenched the burning fuse, thus averting a terrible loss of life. The anarchist who threw the bomb was instantly arrested, and narrowly escaped being torn to pieces by the infuriated audience.

The Queen's speech read at the opening of the new Session of Parliament to-day said that the relations with the foreign powers are friendly; negotiations with Russia regarding Central Asian questions are proceeding and with mutual confidence and good-will an early settlement is expected. Her Majesty avails the result of the enquiry into the collision at Warfina between the English and French forces, and is confident that such a deplorable occurrence will be examined into with calm and dignified temper befitting the two great nations concerned. No reference is made to Home Rule. The Evicted Tenants Bill and programme were announced. Including Registration of Plural Voting and Local Option. The speech adds that full and adequate provision will be made for the defence of the Empire. Negotiations are proceeding with the United States Government for the execution of the Behring Sea award. The Anglo-Chinese Convention has been signed, fixing the frontier between Burma and China.

Lord Rosebery, speaking at a meeting of the Liberal Party, declared that he adhered absolutely to Home Rule and Mr. Gladstone's last speech in the House of Commons against the House of Lords. The present constitution of the Lords, he said, was an anomaly, and has become a danger to the country since it obeyed the dictates of the leader of a single party. The Government, he said, would not lose sight of any means of constitutionally presenting to the country that that anomaly was a danger. His lordship was loudly cheered at the conclusion of his speech.

March 19th.

The Army Estimates show an increase of £97,000.

Mr. Fowler, replying to Mr. Macdonald in the House of Commons, this evening, said that Lord Kimberley declined to sanction the import duty on cotton goods into India, in view of a resolution passed in the House of Commons that a protective duty ought not to be imposed without more urgent necessity existing.

Mr. Dadabhai Naoroji moves a resolution in the House of Commons, condemning the omission of cotton goods from the schedule of dutiable goods under the new Tariff Act.

Lord Rosebery, at the meeting of the Liberal Party, referred to Mr. Gladstone as "our leader whenever he cares to lead us." The general opinion is that the speech makes reunion impossible. Much comment is excited by the admission of Lord Rosebery, in the debate in the Lords, that England must consent before Home Rule can be granted to Ireland.

Mr. Gladstone is at present staying at Brighton. The House of Lords has voted an address in reply to the speech from the Throne. In the debate which took place Lord Rosebery said Egypt was at present peaceful, but in view of recent events there the vigilant supervision of Great Britain was necessary for some time to come.

In the House of Commons Sir W. V. Harcourt promised a discussion on Indian Finance at an early date after Easter.

A memorial from the London Chamber of Commerce urges the Government to arrange for the resumption of the Brussels Silver Conference, hoping that further discussion, in light of recent events, may result in a plan for remedying the evil which has dislocated the business of the entire East.

In the House of Lords last night, Lord Salisbury urged the Government to take the verdict of the people on Home Rule immediately as delay would be disastrous both to England and Ireland. Lord Rosebery said the Government were prepared to appeal to the country on the question of Home Rule when the time was ripe, but would not concede the right to the Lords to force a dissolution.

Admiral Rios de Janeiro said that the insurgent Admiral Da Gama has gone on board the Portuguese corvette and intimidated his officers if protection is guaranteed to them.

Lord Rosebery, in his speech in the House of Lords last night, further said that he concurred with Lord Salisbury that before Parliament concedes Home Rule to Ireland, England will have to be convinced of its justice. Regarding Siram his lordship said that the acute phase was now over. The Government were, he said, alive to the fact that the commerce of Siram is almost wholly British.

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 14th.

LONDON, March 14th.

The amendment to the Address in Reply to the Queen's speech was moved by Sir G. Chesney in the House of Commons last night, regarding the omission of the cotton duties from the new Indian Tariff Act. Mr. Fowler, Secretary of State for India, deprecated any discussion on the subject at this stage in view of his promise to give facilities for a debate on Indian finances at a later date. He declared that the competition of Manchester with India was harmful, and said that if duty was levied on cotton imports while none was levied on fabrics manufactured in India, Indian consumers would have to pay it. The amendment was then negatived without a division.

Mr. Arthur Hardinge will take one month's leave before joining his appointment at Zanzibar in succession to the late Sir Gerald Portal.

The death is announced of General Gubbins.

At a meeting of the Bank of England to-day the Governor stated that the late Chief Cashier, Mr. Frank May, had committed grave irregularities in connection with advances made to customers and had allowed overdrafts without authority of the Directors. He had also speculated in the Stock Exchange and the maximum loss to the Bank thereby was estimated at a quarter of a million sterling. Measures, he said, had been taken to prevent the occurrence of such irregularities and all securities now held by the Bank were of the highest class. The Governor added that the Bank had never held the securities of financial and trust companies.

LONDON, March 6th.

A dispatch to the Times from Paris says: An officer who has returned from Dahomey reports that when King Behanzin found escape impossible he summoned his aged mother and said: "I am going to surrender to France. I shall never know it. You shall see and tell him." The King thereupon had his mother beheaded, while he calmly looked on smoking a pipe.

The British Minister to Guatemala, in answer to inquiries sent him when it was announced from Paris that Guatemala had repudiated her exterior debt, cables the repudiation does not intend to repudiate the debt, but is compelled to make a temporary suspension of the payment of interest upon the exterior debt on account of the fall in silver and the abnormal rate of exchange. The custom duties have been assigned for the payment of the debt and Guatemala intends to come to some agreement with the bondholders in regard to the manner in which future payments will be made.

Lord Rosebery to-day formally assumed the Premiership.

The drawing-room reception which the new Premier attended this afternoon was the smallest so far as the attendance was concerned which the Queen has held for years. There were only 142 people present, and the ceremony only lasted an hour. Lord Rosebery occupied a conspicuous place near the Queen and the other Cabinet Ministers present.

A dispatch received here from Panama says a revolution has broken out in Costa Rica, but adds that so far the rebels have not been successful.

WASHINGTON, March 6th.

Pilgrims will continue to be admitted to the mosque.

LONDON, March 7th.

Herbert Gladstone, Parliamentary Secretary to the Home Office, has accepted the position of First Commissioner of Public Works made vacant by the appointment of Mr. George Shaw Levee as President of the Local Government Board. Herbert Gladstone, however, will not have a seat in the Cabinet, although his predecessor was a member.

The Government has received no news of the reported encounter between the Portuguese and the British forces in South Africa. It is known to the Government, however, that there has been trouble concerning the construction of a strip of the Portuguese territory. The Anglo-Portuguese treaty provides that either Government shall have the right to lay telegraph lines across the territory of the other, but Portugal claims that this right applies only to governments and not to companies, and Rhodes is building his line in behalf of the British South African Company. Five British gunboats are lying in the Zambesi.

The British naval chief at Rio Janeiro reports to the Government that he has arranged not only the Brazilian Government but with the insurgents so that British ships may be enabled to obtain ballast without molestation and leave the harbor. Prior to January 31st a life buoy and a piece of wood marked "Afon Cefal" were picked up on the coast of one of the Shilly Islands. There is little doubt as to the fate of the vessel.

A box with a partly burned fuse was found on the window-sill of the Bow-street Police Station. After many precautions it was opened and found to be harmless. The tin canister only contained a blank cartridge covered over with a quantity of sand, and having a fuse attached to it.

Though the police officials were finally compelled to admit that they had not discovered a dynamite plot, they still insist that such a plot may be in existence, and express the belief that the tin box and cartridges found to-day were intended as a threat upon the part of anarchists who took this means of informing the police of their danger. In spite of the police theory, the general opinion is that the police have been made the victims of a practical joke.

NEW YORK, March 7th.

The Herald's London special says: Wyndham Carter, the crank who was arraigned in the Bow Street Police Court on February 12th, on a charge of having menaced the life of the Queen, to-day was adjudged a criminal lunatic.
